

May 16, 1951.

Dear Dr. Quastler:

Thank you for your interest and trouble in writing and phoning me about your seminar this summer. I regret, however, that my schedule for this summer works out so as to make it unfeasible for me to accept your invitation. Remain assured of my ~~sympathy~~ ^{sympathy} however. If you should find it possible to continue your program into the fall, I would be more than pleased to consider a renewal of your invitation.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg,
Associate Professor of Genetics